School-led Improvement – inspiring engagement : delivering change

Increasing emphasis is being placed on School Leaders to evidence to Inspectors, a culture of school-led improvement.

- Can you evidence your school's continuous improvement culture?
- Can you demonstrate your school's commitment to operational excellence?
- Are all SLT members, teachers and support staff involved in School-led Improvement?

Learnership's School-led Improvement Review replaces your traditional staff survey, at lower cost and higher benefit.

By collating all staff views about 'the way we do things in this school', we produce an evaluation of your school's strengths, as well as identifying through you, where changes might bring improvement.

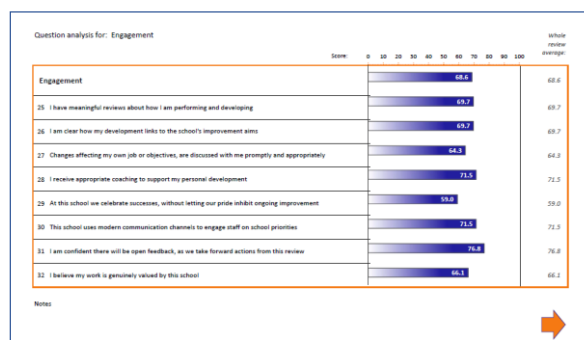

Staff are invited to complete the online review, over a 2-3 week window of your choice – taking just 15 minutes to complete.

No work for school, other than communicating it, and we provide a draft email. Fully secure, password protected, all responses totally anonymous.

All inputs are collated for the Head and produced in a succinct, professional PDF report.

Results are graphically presented for easy interpretation and are clustered into 6 categories:

- Improvement - the way we develop and implement our improvement ethic;
- Delivery - the way we meet the school's goals;
- Dependency - the way the school works together;
- Engagement - the way staff are engaged and led;
- Support - the way the school provides a supportive culture;
- Collaboration - the way the school works with its stakeholders to improve.
